EASTER WEDDINGS POPULAR WITH ENGAGED COUPLES

WITH the advent of Lent there will be practically a cessation of weddings, for few marriages are celebrated between Ash Wednesday, which comes this week, and Easter. But once the penitential period is over there will be many weddings, for the spring season, which begins then, is as popular with brides as the early days of June. Engagements, however, will continue to be announced, many of them culminating in Easter marriages.

There will be one wedding before Lent, however, that of Miss Miriam Geraghty, daughter of Mrs. James V. Geraghty, to Mr. George Lang, Jr., of Kitchener, Ont., which will take place on Tuesday morning in the Church of the Holy Name. Miss Geraghty, who will be given away by her uncle, Mr. Edward A. Maher, Jr., will be attended by her sister, Miss Lulu M. Geraghty, as maid of honor, and the Misses Kathleen and Margaret Lang, sisters of the bridegroom, all students at the Sacred Heart Academy, Kenwood, Albany, from which the bride was graduated last June. Mr. Lang will have for his best man Mr. Frank Phelan of Toronto, and Messrs. Herbert Klein and Edward A. Maher as ushers. Because of the recent death of the bride's grandfather, Edward A. Maher, only near relatives and a few intimate friends have been asked to the ceremony and the reception which will follow at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Miss Emily Haven Beasley and Mr. Selden Osgood Martin, whose engagement has just been announced, will be married in the Easter holidays. Miss Beasley is the daughter of Mrs. Chauncey Haven Beasley of Summit, N. J., and a granddaughter of the late Chief Justice Beasley of New Jersey. Mr. Martin, who comes from Maine, is manager of the research department of the American International Corporation. He is a widower, his wife having died in 1918.

The wedding of Miss Beatrice Van Fleet Allen of 121 East Forty-fifth street will take place this month. Miss Allen, who is the daughter of the late Dr. Charles V. Allen of this city, was a nurse in the French Army during the war and also served as a canteen worker. Major Draper was with the Canadian and British forces, spending two years in France and about thirty months in Mesopotamia.

Formal announcement has been made by Mrs. Rose Jetter of 21 West Fifty-eighth street of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Winifred Jetter, to Mr. Thalmann Bigelow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bigelow of 120 East Fifty-sixth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reed McBurney of Hartford, Conn., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Isabelle McBurney, to Mr. Edward A. Rockwell of this city. Miss McBurney is a student of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts. Mr. Rockwell is the president of the E. A. Rockwell Company, Inc., and the Rockwell Manufacturing Company.

No date has been set for the marriage of Miss Margaret Louise Beach to Mr. Charles L. Auger, Jr., whose engagement has just been announced. Miss Beach is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Auger, Jr., of 17 East Ninety-fifth street. Mr. Auger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Auger.

The wedding of Miss Kathryn Hall Moore to Mr. Samuel Edward Gludiel, whose engagement has just been announced, will take place in the autumn. Miss Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Moore of Bronxville, and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gludiel of Forest Hills, L. I. Miss Moore is a graduate of the Sacred Heart Convent. Mr. Gludiel was graduated from the New York University.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Galvin of 241 Riverside Drive have formally announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Katherine T. Galvin, to Major Parker C. Kallioh, U. S. A., who is stationed at West Point. Miss Galvin met Major Kallioh while she was a guest of Col. and Mrs. William N. Hascall, the Allied High Commissioner at Tiflis, in the new Republic of Georgia. Major Kallioh was at that time attached to the staff of Col. Hascall. Miss Galvin's father formerly was President of the Board of Water Supply. She is a graduate of the College of Mount St. Vincent. Major Kallioh served in France and received the D. S. C. for heroism in the Meuse and Argonne, being wounded twice.

POPPY BALL, ST. VALENTINE'S NIGHT, AMONG LENTEN DANCES; SEWING CLASSES ARE REVIVED

ACCORDING to old fashioned notions, some of which might well be followed these days, the season of Lent, which begins this week on Wednesday, should be devoid of pomp or show and full of self denial. There is not much prospect, however, of any wild diversions from now on, and perhaps the few dances that have been arranged, without any idea of philanthropy, may be excusable enough, as there will be as well others that will have in view the helping of organizations or institutions that are in need of funds.

The Coffee Dances, which are on their second season, will hold their next dance on St. Valentine's night at the Cosmopolitan Club, and, as that is a feast day, there will be an indulgence for anything approaching gaiety. Another series of subscription dances that have been in existence since before the war, the Mid-Year Dances, will have their first meeting of this season at the Ritz-Carlton on the night of February 19.

One excusable dance for the Lenten season will be held at the Plaza on St. Valentine's night, under the auspices of the American Legion, for the benefit of the American and French Children's League. It is to be called a Poppy Ball. The Plaza ballroom is to be arranged so as to represent an old fashioned French garden, and about the room tables will be placed in the shrubbery. Everywhere there will be, so far as possible, the atmosphere of the French wayside, and the girls who will assist will be dressed as poppies. There will be a poppy quadrille, although the young men taking part in it will wear Louis XIV. court costumes. Well known artists will sing and there will be other attractive features. For those who do not come in costume there will be on sale at the entrance of the ballroom poppy decorations that can be attached to conventional evening attire.

Tickets at $7 each will include supper, and these, as well as boxes, may be obtained at the American Legion, 100 West 42nd street. The party is being given under the patronage of Mrs. Millerand, wife of the President of the French Republic; Mrs. W. Seward Webb, Jr., Ogden, Red, K. McKees Knox, Hamilton Fish, Armstrong, I. Townsend Burden, Louis de Milhau, T. J. Oakley Rhinelander, William H. Wilcox, Walter E. Lambert, Pierre H. Huguier, Charles H. Dutton, Henry P. Loomis, Algernon Sartoris, Ernest C. Poole, Robert Livingston Gerry and Edwin C. Jameson.

The board of managers includes Messrs. Raymond Hayemeyer, McAllister Smith, James Taylor Terry, Fenton B. Turck, H. Hinton Perry, H. Bartow Farr, William A. Perry and Sims G. Wyle.

Dance for Lost Battalion.

There are some survivors of the Lost Battalion, which was surrounded and starved in the Argonne Forest, resisting for seven days against overwhelming odds with "No surrender" for their watchword. All except a few were "broken." A benefit reception and ball will be given by surviving members of Company K of that battalion on the night of February 11, in the ballroom of the Commodore Hotel, and the proceeds will be used to maintain a home, which will be a permanent memorial to those who fell in battle or died from the results of the war. Through such a home the organizers will be enabled to carry on welfare work among men incapacitated and their dependents. In addition to dancing there will be entertainment of various theatres. Among these will be Mme. Alice Delysia, who, through the courtesy of Constock & Geat, will appear in a novel dance.

Among those who have obtained boxes and tickets are Mrs. Vincent Astor, Miss Anne Morgan, Mrs. Stokes Halliwell, Mrs. Dexter Blagden, Miss Elizabeth Marbury, Mrs. Robert Hartshorn, Mrs. Charles H. Sablin, Mrs. Coleman du Pont, Mrs. John Sanford, Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mr. James A. Blair, Jr., Mrs. Charles H. Baldwin, Mrs. James Rowland Angell, Mrs. John H. B. Francis, Mrs. William R. Hearst, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Worthington Hine, Mr. Charles Hayden, Mrs. Henry Clay Adams, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Read, Jr., Mrs. W. Astor Chanler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Beckwith and Mr. A. Morris Bagby.

Among the special guests of the night will be Gen. Robert Alexander, Col. Charles H. B. Francis, commander of the Lost Battalion, Capt. Joseph A. Jonathan, commanding Company K; Private Abraham Krotshinsky of Company K; Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr.; Mr. Stuyvesant Fish, Mr. James V. Goetz, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Straus, Mr. James Speyer, Mr. De Lancey Kane Jay and Commodore Louis M. Josephthal of the Naval Militia.

Lenten Sewing Classes.

For many years the sewing class has played a role during the season of Lent. At some of these meetings, notably those held of the class under the auspices of the French Air Association of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, which often is referred to as the Cathedral the house has not yet been decided on. Those who will take part will include some of the season's debutantes and girls who are not to be introduced to society for several years. As the event is taking place in Easter week there will be freedom from school. In addition to the sale there will be tea and dancing.

FESTIVALS FOR CHARITY ON LENTEN HOLIDAYS

One of the basic principles of good business in the staging of entertainments with philanthropic aims is the policy of utilizing a holiday or a popular festival for the project and then to permit the celebration to color the benefit. Thus Shrove Tuesday will be utilized Tuesday night with a Mardi Gras ball. The next festival is to be St. Valentine's Day, the fourteenth. On that afternoon the committee that has arranged a performance in the Metropolitan Opera House on Washington's Birthday for the work of the New York women's emergency committee of the European Relief Council will have a pre-festival celebration in the Biltmore Hotel. Mrs. Willard Straight is chairman of the women's committee. Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson will be the presiding genius at the St. Valentine's matinee in the Biltmore, tickets for which are $5 each and will include the entertainment and the tea that will follow.

At the matinee the professional world again will cooperate with the women of society. Miss Rosa Ralston of the Chicago Opera Company will sing; James Montgomery Flagg will amuse the party with some of his drawings; Miss Gladys Vargesi and Norman Trevor of "Enter, Madame," will appear in a short skit, and the Duncan Sisters of "Tip Top" will be seen in one of their acts. Howland Hopper will sell boxes and seats for the performance in the Metropolitan.

After the performance of "Carmen" on February 22, in which Miss Gertrude Farrar will sing the popular role, there will be a "Sympathetic Tableau," arranged by W. T. Benda. Mrs. Lydia Hoy will pose for the leading part. The theme will be arranged to illustrate America's generous aid in sending food to the hungry children of central and eastern Europe.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney is chairman of the benefit committee. Mrs. George L. Post, Jr., will have charge of the sale of souvenir programmes. Miss Marion Tiffany is the head of a group of young women who will solicit advertisements for the programme. Miss Tiffany has asked several of her friends in the young set to assist her in this advertising campaign and has received acceptances from Mrs. Stephen H. Hixson, Mrs. Richard S. Emmet, Miss Florence Clendenen, Miss Genevieve Clendenen, Miss Audrey Hoffman, Mrs. Spencer Kennard, Miss Melissa Yulle, Mrs. John Wolfe and Mrs. John Monroe. They began their tour of the leading Fifth avenue shops on Friday, introduced by letters from Mrs. Whitney which states the nature of the special drama opera and the humanitarian purpose to which its proceeds will be assigned.

St. Valentine's poems will be recited to music and in perfect costume by young women of society at a St. Valentine's recital on February 15 at the Macbowell Club Galleries. Among those who will take part are Miss Madolyn Nichols, who will recite "Through the Eyes" and "The Kettle's Croon," and Miss F. Cobbett will sing "In a Garden" and "Three Green Bonnets." Miss Betty Robbins will recite a group of poems by Sylvia. Miss Dagmar Perkins, a gifted stenographer, has trained these young women. The recital will be followed by a dance. The proceeds will be used to establish scholarships for the Voice Training Scholarship Fund. The council is composed of Mr. James M. Beck, Mrs. Paul D. Cravath, Mr. Otto H. Kahn, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, Mr. J. Forbes Morgan and Mrs. William Blair Perkins.

They include the Misses Janet Brower, Helen Cameron, Betsy Flagg, Mary Flagg, Antoinette Givens, Alan H. Gray, Kitty Kimball, Helene Ogden, Katherine Post, Louise Schieffelin, Audrey Sherman, Katherine Speyer, Margaret Thomson, Julia Walker and Harriet Wilbur. Margarete Matzenauer of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Hans Kinder, cellist.

MARDI GRAS BALL ENDS SOCIAL SEASON

The Southern Educational Association is to have the social field to itself Tuesday night for a Mardi Gras ball to mark the passing of the season and the opening of Lent the following day. Among the debutantes representing characters in the groups will be the Misses Mary Van Rensselaer Cogswell, Carolyn Ferriday, Betty Merchant and Mary Trimble. Others taking part include Miss Clara Sylvia Guthrie, Miss Maud Ellinger and Miss Frances Judson. In a Egyptian banquet the role of Cleopatra will be taken by Mrs. S. L. Under auspices of the women's committee a bridge tournament is being held Thursday afternoon in the Hotel Majestic for the benefit of destitute Serbian children.

A number of dinners will precede a dance which is to be held to-morrow evening in the Waldorf-Astoria for the benefit of the Mount St. Vincent College alumnae fund. As this is the first public affair of the kind ever held for the benefit of the "Mount," which is one of the oldest convent schools in the country, it will be in the nature of a college reunion. Many of the former classes have taken boxes and many members of the alumnae are coming from nearby cities to be present. They will include graduates living in Boston, Newburgh, New Rochelle, Mount Vernon, Syracuse, Albany, Glens Falls and Philadelphia.

Next Saturday Miss Caroline Runz-Rees, Miss Mary Lowndes and Mr. and Mrs. H. Ashton Crook will give a buffet luncheon at the Field Club. It will be followed by dancing at the Pickwick Arms.

However week will be observed here soon, when a gigantic parade will take place.
